

Avarice<sup>1</sup>

This writing will dwell into an arena better left to mental experts. A wise learned person once educated me to the difference between an alcoholic and a pedophile. Taught, you can take the alcohol away from an alcoholic and the alcoholic could possibly be a positive person in society. However, you cannot remove the deviant thoughts from a pedophile's brain and as a result there would be a great concern that society would be at risk from such deviant thinking. This writer lacks expertise to argue as to whether the deviant thoughts are a result of medical issues or teachings. But, the writer does understand, that for both the alcoholic and the pedophile, oversight is required so to protect society. Deviant thoughts of a rapist, in this author opinion would warrant the Bobbitt Guillotine. So sorry guys, "NO" means "NO" regardless when "NO" is spoken or implied.

Herein, a habitual gambler betting on number 5 in the 6th race does not know how to say "NO." Events in modern time suggest the Power's have been corrupted by avarice for power. Shakespeare in the early 1600's got it correct in Macbeth, as the story goes; it is based on the events involving King Macbeth of Scotland and the wishes of his lady. The 1892 Bank Manifesto was made available to the world by actions of Charles Lindbergh therefore it is unknown if Shakespeare had knowledge of the Bank's Manifesto or any of its predecessors.

The deviant greed thoughts of the Banks and the Powers require oversight, whereas, without proper oversight the world will remain in Financial Servitude.
