

Idiom's Riddle

j.mcguire@trilliondollarfubar.com
May 13, 2012

I was invited to comment upon this area, whether I have the wisdom or knowledge, I would have preferred those of theology and leaders of the religious world will be a better choice of the people.

It was suggested that I write in riddles, but not riddles to me.

Comments in regards to Ezekiel [1:4], It is noted elsewhere in the bible that God's fight with Satan will take place above ground, if one follows the path of the deity, one knows God will set forth the pale horses in advance and as for the faces seen, the faces of the people.

As I previously wrote:

“Over 2000 years ago, Jesus began this fight with the money changers and today, God has set forth the stampede of Pale horses to fight this evil and the riders' names are “The People.”

One can only speculate that the wheels mentioned are those supporting God's chariot.

As for Ezekiel [1:26], the voice of firmament, yesterday I was talking to a learned who told me that I think many levels above the learned. Lest not forget, a leader teaches so as not to lead, in Gods realm, God provided that he is that he is and he allowed man to teach man, but many a man has failed to teach correctly for their interest were in selfish gains of this world. I am that I am but I do carry God in my heart.

Addressing Ezekiel [2:2], a leader teaches so as not to lead, as so has God attempted to teach his children, but if we cannot teach and lead ourselves, the alternative is a very high price to pay. Moving on up to Ezekiel [2:6], the people need not fear the lies spread by those that believe they lead. (ECB, Analysts, Bank Economists, etc...)

As to Ezekiel Chapter [3], God offers food (wisdom and knowledge), it is up to each to apply. For if man absorbs the correct nourishment then one would think of that in a positive.

I will address the rest of Ezekiel later after this one last remark in re: [3:17], God allows man to warn evil, that I have done. If they fail to listen, then they have judged themselves to eternal damnation for they will never get to the door of God's judgment.

Ok, I fibbed a little, have to dwell on I John [4:4] in this writing:

“Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.”

We each have the power of God within us, and in applying God's power for that of what God designed, man will defeat that evil that attacks God and Man.

Mankind operating in tandem, much of evil could be put to rest, if it to be hell, then evil has already made that choice and God will not have to look at evil to judge.

Many voters around the planet are reflecting a consortium of good. No better way than to cast evil out than by casting a vote.

Europe

United States – Next?

I wished God would grant mercy on a soul condemned to hell, but that choice has been removed from God by the condemned.