

“If everyone is thinking alike, then somebody isn't thinking”

The author went his own direction in thinking nearly a decade and half ago. In these years of research the depth of the criminal acts were uncovered. In the authors attempt to educate people of what was truly happening many simply would not believe as their thinking was the same as most others.

One of the author's favorite examples: The Orange is “Green”.

Darn right, it's Green, because that's what my daddy and his daddy told me. My mommy and my grandmother also told me it was Green. That's what everybody in town told me.

That's what the banks told me.

Ever wonder why the banks hired foreclosure mills to do the legal work?

Let's look at David J. Stern for a moment. His greed got in the way of truth and do you believe any bank will come to his rescue and actually admit they committed the crime?

“Hell No”, the banks will let the law firms take the bullet, they don't care about anything but the money...

Wonder who's list “Barrett Daffin Frappier Turner and Engel, LLP” is on?

The truth is slowly making its way into the public and people are now beginning to think with intelligence instead of being that of a lemming.

Aug. 23 (Bloomberg) -- Former Republican House Speaker Newt Gingrich says Barack Obama's policies are “artificially extending the recession.” Congressman John Boehner, the party's leader in the House, says “stimulus policies aren't working.” Republican Senator Jim Bunning calls Federal Reserve Chairman Ben S. Bernanke's tenure “a failure.”<sup>1</sup>

Has anybody ever question who all the financial analysts work for?

Read the news paper, surf the internet and watch TV and they all appear to be somehow related to the banks or large investment institutions. It is of no magic, that anything and everything that these analysts would say needs to reflect a positive outlook, if not; they are not going to make their million dollar bonus.

“ If everyone is thinking alike, then somebody isn't thinking “, (General George S. Patton)

General Patton knew what shoe polish was for and he knew how to kick ass.
