

De-L'audace

A bold commander never gives up the aggressive initiative to his enemy.

By James McGuire

Attorney Generals, Congressmen, and all other elected officials who accept special interest money, and all their appointees, have become the WHORES of the SPECIAL Interests that control America. Constituents know that Corporate America's banks, in a large part, are the largest contributor of special interest funding. As long as special interest money is massaged into the pockets of leaders, constituents will suffer at the hands of those playing the game of crooked pocket pool for self gratification.

Leaders stand in Congress and praise the actions of soldiers; media constantly publishes articles and televise the sacrifices these warriors have made to protect America from harm. It appears that American leaders have failed to recognize one significant factor, these celebrated warriors have returned to being constituents.

The American people have not failed; America's leaders have failed. Why are most American leaders still playing crooked stick pocket pool while America is being raped, pillaged and plundered?

One thing for certain, female leaders wearing dresses would have no pockets for pool balls. "If momma ain't happy, nobody is happy." Maybe it's time for skirts to takeover leadership, for women bear the children and they will fight to protect the children's best interests.

Another old adage, "behind every good man there is a good woman." With all the news reports of American male leaders' lewd misconduct, just maybe America has run out of good men to lead the battle against evil.
