

Oligarchy

Leaders of Servitude ^(Civil)

By James McGuire

The term Oligarchy¹ (from Greek ὀλιγαρχία , *oligarkhía*²) is a form of power structure in which power effectively rests with a small number of people.

8th Edition of Black's law defines "lawyer" as one who is licensed to practice law, and "Esquire" as a title of courtesy appended after the name of the lawyer.

Gretchen Morgenson published "Homework Regulators Aren't Doing" on April 16, 2011 in the New York Times³ and identified Elizabeth W. Magner, as a bankruptcy court judge in the Eastern District of Louisiana and noticed Judge Magner, "has probably done more investigating than some of the attorneys general..."

Let everyone address the definition of The Creator, The Singular Deity, the One and Only! This author prays that one day the idolaters who love money over God will see the light before their eternal souls are forever damned! Every look at creation is proof enough that God exists. For the Oligarchs who worship money, note that the source materials required to make money originated on Earth. The Oligarchs need only look at where they are standing to realize that the Earth's creation is beyond all of mankind's most imaginative capabilities of creation, even those speculated in 2045.

People are revolting against the Oligarchs to end the servitude in the Middle East. Social unrest and riots have erupted against the servitude across the globe, not only in third world countries and emerging nations, but also in advanced countries such as Greece, the UK, and the US. One thing is certain: if a light bulb burns out and you need light, you will replace the light bulb. Likewise, if a bathtub is dirty and you need a bath, you will first clean the tub so that no scum is left.

*"Over two thousand years ago, Jesus began the fight with the money changers; and today, God has set loose the stampede of Pale Horses to fight the evil and the rider's names are the People."*⁴

Quote from Terminator 2: Judgment Day, "It's a damn mini gun." In writing, it is not a mini gun, nor any pen, but that of a pen that carries the voice of the people.

The Oligarchy

A successful Oligarchy needs a series of ‘successors and assigns,’ an army of faithful sub-Oligarchy, to assure its success. Powerful Oligarchies require only about one percent (1%) of a population for their power distribution; in the United States approximately 3 million people would be in direct service to the Oligarchy, with the balance of the US population of 326,700,000 people in servitude to the Oligarchy .

The Sub-Oligarchy

Whether the Sub-Oligarchy realize it, they themselves have submitted to servitude. So long as the Oligarchy provide them with means to survive, the Sub-Oligarchy will fulfill the wishes of the Oligarchy. Without these minions the Oligarchy would not have the power to keep the people in servitude.

Agencies of the United States (Sub-Oligarchy)

The first of the Sub-Oligarchy in this country are the few persons within several of the United States agencies. One need only to look within the Federal Reserve, United States Treasury, OCC and the other agencies and retrieve the list of names involved in these agencies and identity the Financial Oligarchy from which they came. History will provide the names of the Financial Oligarchies for where these same names will seek employment as a lobbyist, consultant, etc to the Financial Oligarchy. Again, it is not the government that is the Sub-Oligarchy but that of a few of these individuals within the government agencies that claims the actions taken are in the best benefit of the country. The 1% of the Oligarchy counts their rubber duck money on this claim, while 99% of the people realize the bath tub has a big hole. The writer has found that the United States of America is a just and fair country, it is that of few individuals operating within the government that has tainted this countries good name.

The Lawyers (Sub-Oligarchy)

Defending the Oligarchy is the Sub-Oligarchy’s lawyer’s job. Those in servitude will encounter these lizard-tongued yellow-bellied rubber duck lawyers who manipulate the words of law for the Oligarchy. It appears these lawyers are most interested in the highest floor of a building and largest paycheck achievable. Lawyers have a duty to their clients. Lying, confabulating or restating statutes, and /or abusing the Rules of the Courts are ways rubber duck lawyers help serve the Oligarchy to avoid justice resulting in the mass miscarriage of justice. These lawyers may operate within imperfect or manipulated laws created by man, but they have failed to observe their duty to God. “So Help Me God,” the Lawyers Creed for Florida⁵, and the Texas Attorney Oath⁶.

The Courts (Sub-Oligarchy)

The courts were created to uphold the laws as written. The court system is a just and sound system. The fault is not with the courts but those several judges that preside over the court that fail to follow the rule of law. As most state judges are elected, the Oligarchy will most assuredly attempt to support electing those that would aid the Oligarchy. It is not the Courts that listen to the mistruths of the lawyers and fail to follow the rule of law, but that of individual judges who hide behind the veil of Sovereign Immunity.

Law Enforcement (Sub-Oligarchy)

The actions of Law Enforcement as Sub-Oligarchy are carried out as unknowing participants as they are only executing orders they have sworn to uphold. Those who give the orders to for Law Enforcement higher level Sub-Oligarchy that should be accountable for law enforcement actions. The Oligarchy has succeeded in creating a system where an unknowing law enforcement is the front line troops to maintain their order of Financial Gestapolism.

Gotta love Paul Krugman's comment in the article "Another Inside Job"⁷: Bankers themselves warn that any action against them would place economic recovery at risk. Look at who is concerned with that statement—Wall Street's and the Government's Oligarchy! The 1% or less of the population that has benefitted from eviscerating the United States' economy and putting the rest of the nation and its children's children into servitude, while the 99% in servitude will pay whatever the price is for America to return to a great nation of truth, justice and opportunity.

Maybe mainstream media has not picked up on it, but the people involved with the people's media are already preparing for the 2012 elections. Congressional electorates should be greatly concerned with 2012. The People know that The People are the most influential and important special interest group in the United States of America, and indeed, the entire world! The People are talking; the leaders of this country appear to be listening to paying lobbyists on behalf of the Oligarchy instead of their constituents. How much better to ride a wave for God and The People than to jockey a sinking rubber duck among the bubble scum in a dirty bathtub!
